

Brian Schermer, PhD, RA

Courses Taught:

Arch 585 Research Methods
Arch 586 Programming for Arch Design
Arch 645/845 Workshop Studio
Arch 750 Pro-seminar in Environmental Design Research
Arch 785 Advanced Research Methods in Architecture

Educational Credentials:

B.A. University of Wisconsin, 1980
M. Arch., University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 1986
PhD., University of Michigan, 2002

Teaching Experience:

Instructor, Boston Architectural Center, 1989-1994
Lecturer and Graduate Student Instructor, University of Michigan, 1995-1997
Visiting Assistant Professor of Architecture, Washington State University, 1998-1999
Assistant Professor of Architecture, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Fall 1999-2005
Associate Professor of Architecture, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 2005- Present

Professional Experience:

Research Associate, BOSTI (Buffalo Organization for Social and Technological Innovation), 1984-1985
Research Associate, Jay Farbstein & Associates, San Luis Obispo, CA, 1985-1987
Designer, Payette Associates, Boston, 1987-1989
Research Architect, Executive Office of Communities & Development, Boston, 1989-1991
Architect, Adaptive Environments Center, Boston; 1991-1992
Architect, Katherine McGuinness & Associates, Waltham, MA; 1992-1994
Architect, Wallace, Floyd Associates, Boston, 1994

Licenses/Registration:

Massachusetts

Selected Publications and Recent Research:

Law and Practice for Architects, Bob Greenstreet, Karen Greenstreet, and Brian Schermer, London, UK: Architectural Press. 2005.
Bidding and Contract Negotiation. Brian Schermer and Bob Greenstreet. In the American Institute of Architects online training resource, Emerging Architects Companion. http://www.aia.org/nav_ep (Activation August 2004).

Designing for Addiction Recovery: Reflections from an Architectural Case Study, in Rodriguez, B., and Chapin, M. (eds.) Linking Differences / Defining Actions; Proceedings of the 39th Annual Conference of the Environmental Design Research Association, Veracruz, Mexico, May 28-June 1, 2008.

Professional Memberships:

Environmental Design Research Association (Past Board Chair, 2005)