

CURRICULUM VITAE

Royce M. Earnest

5020 Wind Point Road
Racine, Wisconsin 53402
rearnest@uwm.edu

Education:

PhD: 2017, The University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee (area of study: origins of ecological consciousness in early twentieth century urbanism; the work of Elbert Peets). The dissertation was: Elbert Peets: Town planning, pragmatism, and ecology.
Master of Architecture: North Carolina State University 1985
Minor: Architectural History
Thesis: The Dialectic of the Circumstantial and Ideal, the thesis was an investigation of campus planning, and its adjustment over time to accommodate changes.
Bachelor of Science, Architecture: University of Virginia 1979
(one semester studying at Polytechnic of Southbank, London)

Experience:

I have worked as an architect for twenty years. I am currently a PhD candidate in architecture at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. From 2002 until 2009, I was an assistant professor at Judson University, in Elgin, Illinois.

Teaching, professional juries:

Adjunct and Teaching Assistant, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee
Associate professor, Judson University, Elgin, Illinois
Teaching assistant for undergraduate structures course while at North Carolina State University.
AIA jury for awards program for Central Pennsylvania AIA.
AIA jury for awards program for Kansas AIA.

2017-present: Adjunct Assistant Professor at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee (intermittently). Currently serving as Secretary for the Landscape History Chapter, a part of the Society of Architectural Historians.

2009-2017: PhD student at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. In addition to classes, I have Teaching Assistantship. In the fall of 2009, and in the spring of 2010, I have been teaching a section of the second year design studio sequence.

2001-2009: Associate Professor in Architecture at Judson University, Elgin, Illinois
Courses: design studios (second-year, fourth-year, and graduate); Readings in the History of Landscape Architecture (graduate seminar); Architectural History Survey.
Served as Graduate Coordinator (three year position, elected by faculty).

2000-2002 Began RE.Architects: Small projects, including public and residential commissions.

1996-1999 Project Architect at Architectural Associates Ltd in Racine

1990-1995 Project Architect at Cho, Wilks & Benn Architects, Baltimore, Maryland

1986-1990 Project Manager at Bohlin, Cywinski Jackson, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania

I was a team leader and team member for all phases of projects, including proposals, planning, production and contract administration.

1985-1986 RTKL in Baltimore, Maryland

1979-1983 Kidd/Plosser/Sprague, Birmingham, Alabama

Areas of Interest and Expertise:

Landscape studies and landscape ecology:

I have taught courses in Readings in Landscape History. My interest is in advocating a holistic and ecologically sound approach to architecture that includes concerns for habitat and other impacts of the building process.

History and criticism:

Minor in Architectural History for my graduate degree.

Structures and construction history.

Awards, Professional Activities, Publications

The Gallun Tannery in Milwaukee, for the Society of Industrial Archeology, Seattle, WA.

Patrick Geddes, Ecology & Urbanism; Society of American City and Regional Planning History, Baltimore, MD, annual meeting.

Science in the Beam House, paper presented at UWM Graduate Student Forum, March, 2011.

A Landscape Perspective on Ethics, paper presented at McGill University's History and Theory conference in Montreal, September, 2007. The paper explored parallels between early twentieth century conservationists and contemporary practice, primarily in sustainability and landscape practice.

Chair of Session: Society of Architectural Historians, 2007, in Pittsburgh. The session was "Creative Misreadings and Fruitful Analogies", an interdisciplinary session exploring the analogies and explanations used by designers to communicate their work.

Construction Issues in Palladio's Villa Rotonda, paper presented at the Society of Architectural Historians, Spring 2005, Vancouver

Session moderator, ACSA regional meeting, Fall 2004

Rigorous Intuition, paper presented at ACSA conference on beginning design studies, Spring 2003

Shedding new light on solar shadows: Article on computer rendering, in MicroStation Manager, Vol. 6, No. 8, August 1996, pages 52-54.

Carroll County Library and Senior Center: Featured in Architecture: June 1995, pages 84-87.

Baltimore AIA award: Carroll County Library

Baltimore AIA award: Bryn Mawr School Library and Administration Building
The Klein Residence, featured in Progressive Architecture: April 1992, pages 106-113.
Wood Council Award: The Klein Residence
Planning and Elaboration, an article I wrote for the Oz Journal (architecture journal for Kansas State University) Vol. 11, 1989
Baltimore Chapter AIA Newsletter: various book reviews
Member of the Society of Architectural Historians
Baltimore Architecture Foundation: Member of committee to catalog and exhibit drawings in the Foundation archives.
Editorial Board: Pennsylvania Architect, The Journal of the Pennsylvania Society of Architects, 1989-1990
Board Member, Northeastern Pennsylvania Chapter of the AIA
AIA School Medal for Excellence at North Carolina State University
Teaching assistant in Structures at North Carolina State University

Royce M. Earnest
5020 Wind Point Road
Racine, Wisconsin 53402

rearnest@uwm.edu